CAUCUS CLASSIC

The Caucus Classic, the annual golf tournament for the Asian Law Caucus, was started in 1994 by four Caucus alumni: Edwin M. Lee (former law clerk, staff and managing attorney), Lisa Oyama (former law clerk and board member), Gary Lee (former law clerk and volunteer) and Gene Lam (ALC co-founder and former staff attorney). In 1999, Manny Tumaneng, Jr. joined the planning committee.

Now in its 14th year, the Caucus Classic has grown from 36 players to 144 players! It has developed a loyal following of return participants and sponsors, as well as attracting new ones each year. We are deeply grateful for the commitment and hard work of the Caucus Classic Committee members, sponsors and supporters that make this event such a success.

ASIAN LAW CAUCUS

The Asian Law Caucus, founded in 1972, is the first civil rights legal organization in the nation to seek social and economic equity for Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders. Our work continues to focus on the areas of employment/labor, immigration, housing, elder law and civil rights. By adopting a multi-faceted approach that combines direct legal services, community education, organizing, advocacy and litigation, the ALC has focused on empowering the community and individuals.

Over the years, the Caucus has helped thousands of people fight employment discrimination and hate crimes, receive legally entitled wages and overtime pay, and live in safe and affordable housing. The ALC's multilingual staff provides legal services in languages our clients speak and in venues that are accessible to them.
